Pow-Wow*

Volume XXXVII

*Presented by the Senior Class of Windsor High School
Windsor, Illinois*

Here's to our old Windsor High,
Shouting the echoes up to the sky.
Raise your banners, blue and gold,
Shouting the challenge loud and bold.
No matter what may be the test,
We will think our team is the best.
Come ye loyal sons and daughters,
Stand up for Windsor High.

To Our Parents

We, the Senior Class of 1960, dedicate the Pow-Wow to our Parents.

Since it would be so difficult to express in words our gratitude to them for their patience, confidence, encouragement, love, and understanding, we wish to use this dedication as a symbol of our appreciation.

The Class of 1960

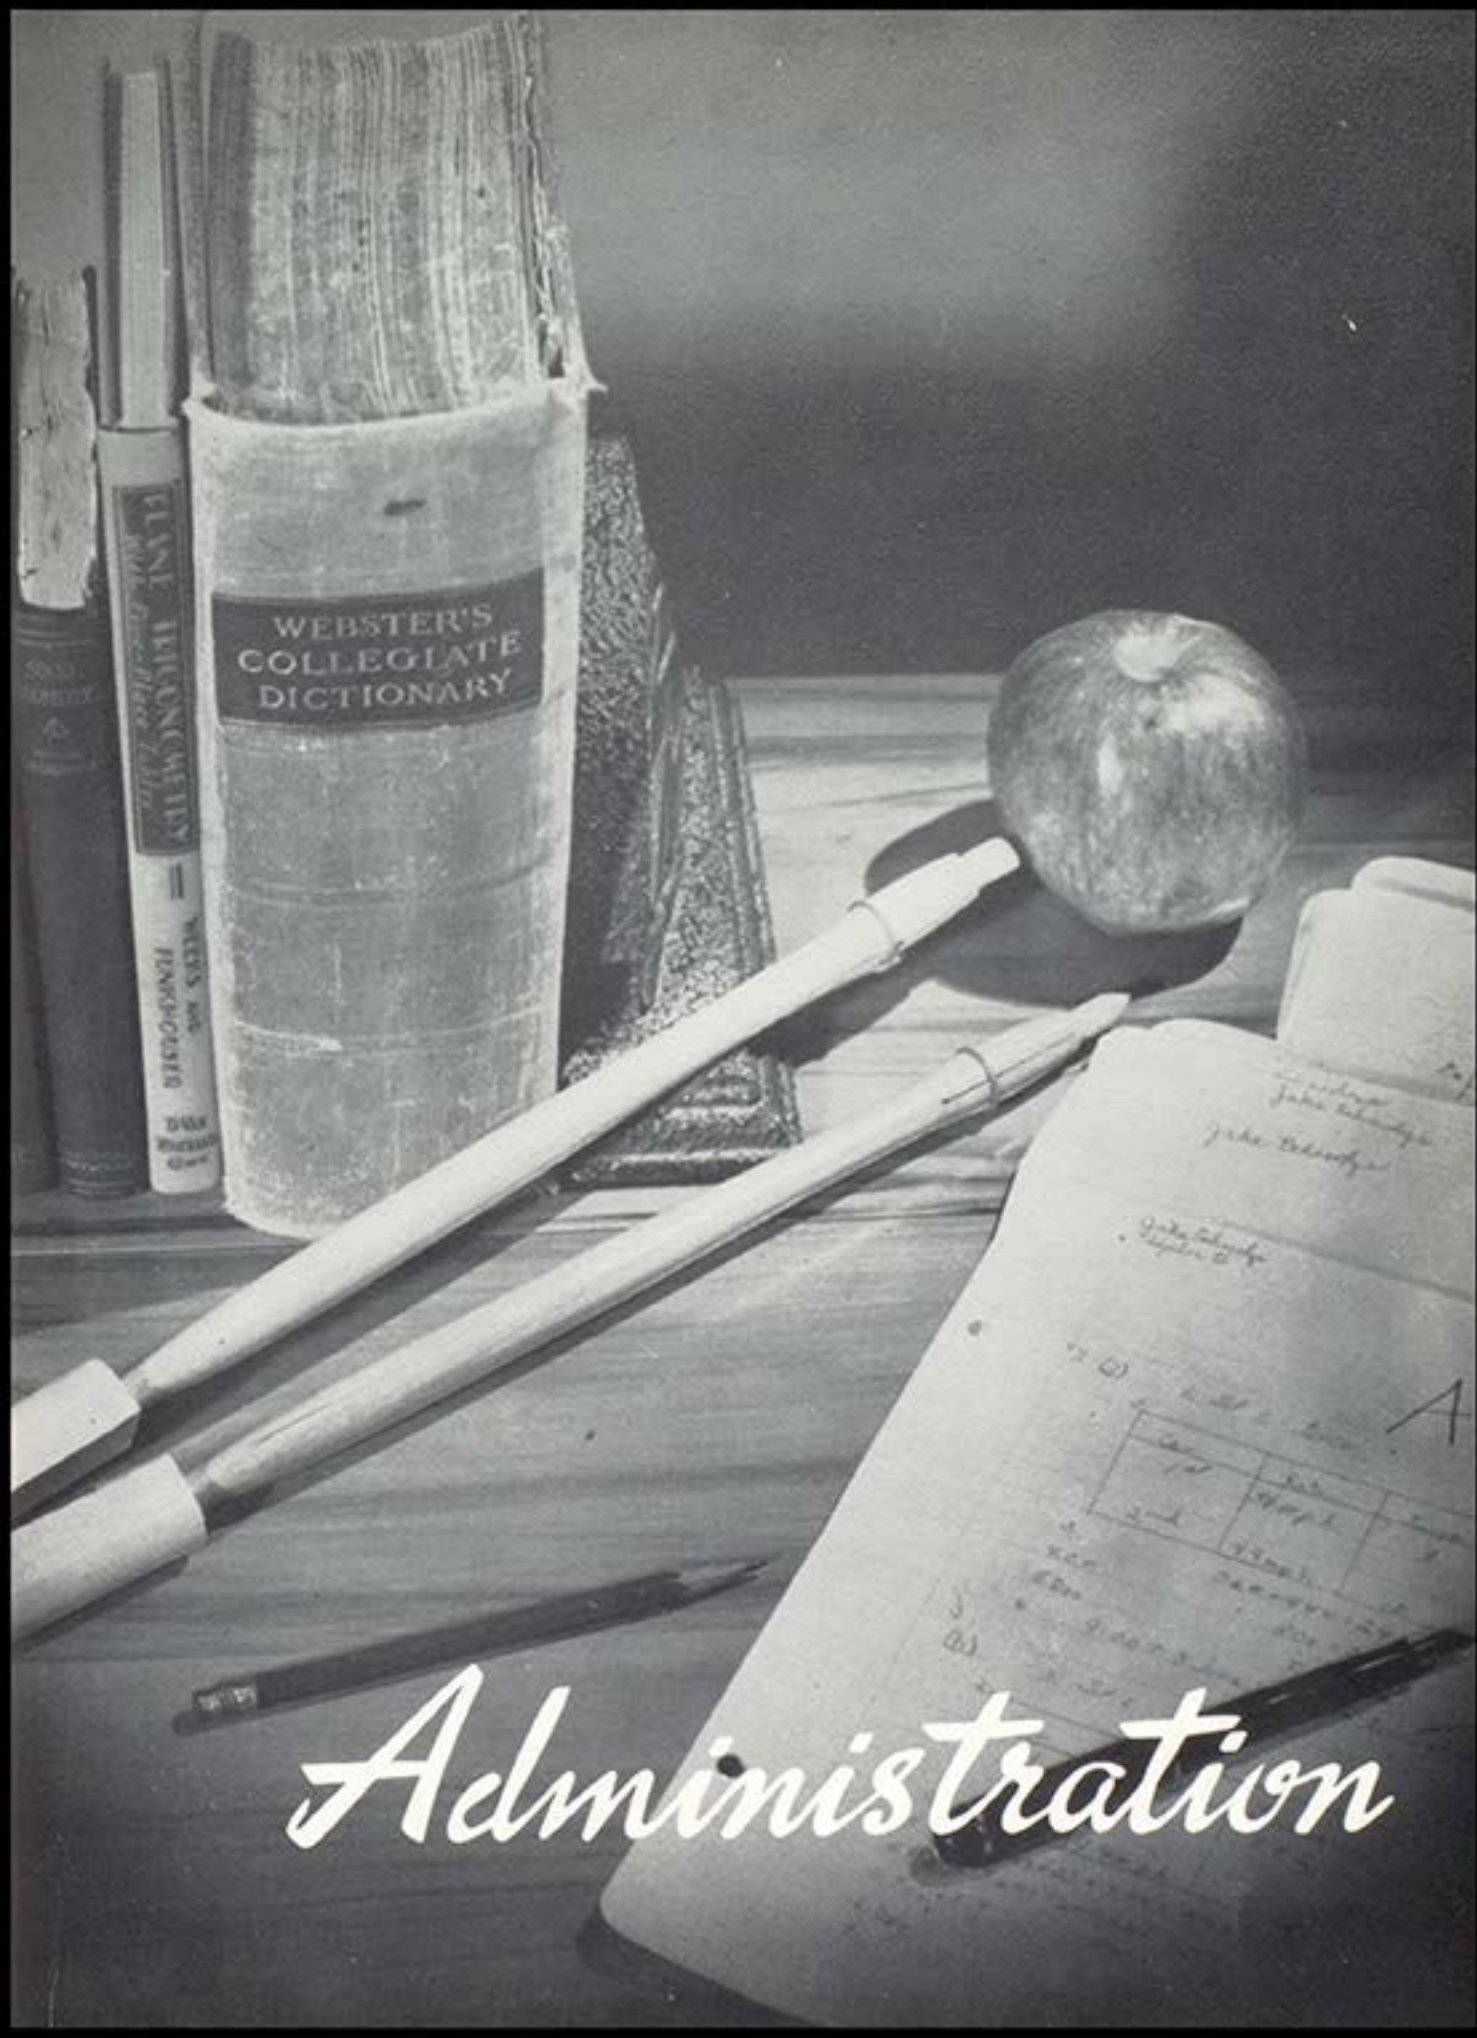

Spotlighting School Life

Sit down in that big, soft easy chair, prop up your feet on the footstool, take a sip of that cool coke near the arm of your chair, lean back your head, close your eyes, take a deep breath . . . now another. Now you are completely relaxed.

Scenes of your days at Windsor High begin to float gently back into your memory. At first they seem hazy, but then they begin to take more definite form as if they were being bathed by the flooding beams of a spotlight--all those classes weren't really so difficult when you spent a few hours studying! Remember the thrill of seeing the new scoreboard in action for the first time? Of course, you'll never forget those moments of excitement and enchantment at school parties and dances. Ah, those were the days! Many other memories wing their way through the hall of time and burst into focus in your mind. To aid your reminiscing, you pick up the 1959-60 Pow-Wow and look again at those pictures of memories. Happiness and pride seep through you as you find YOUR-SELF in the spotlight.

Administration

Administration Supports the School's Ideals.

The board members meet monthly to better the education of W. H. S. The financial affairs, the hiring of faculty and personnel, and the passing of many of class and organization projects are some of their important duties.

Besides performing the important duties as principal and superintendent, Mr. Curry and Mr. Seng work with the board for the improvement of our school.

Butcher Retires From Halls of W.H.S.

We were sorry to lose one of our janitors, Mr. J. O. Butcher, when he retired November 25, 1959, after serving our school for ten years. After completing six and one half years as bus driver and part time custodian, he accepted the position as full time custodian.

Mr. Butcher took much pride in keeping the school clean and attractive. He didn't seem to consider it as just a hard job, but as something he loved doing.

J. O. Butcher, head custodian, empties one last waste basket before his retirement.

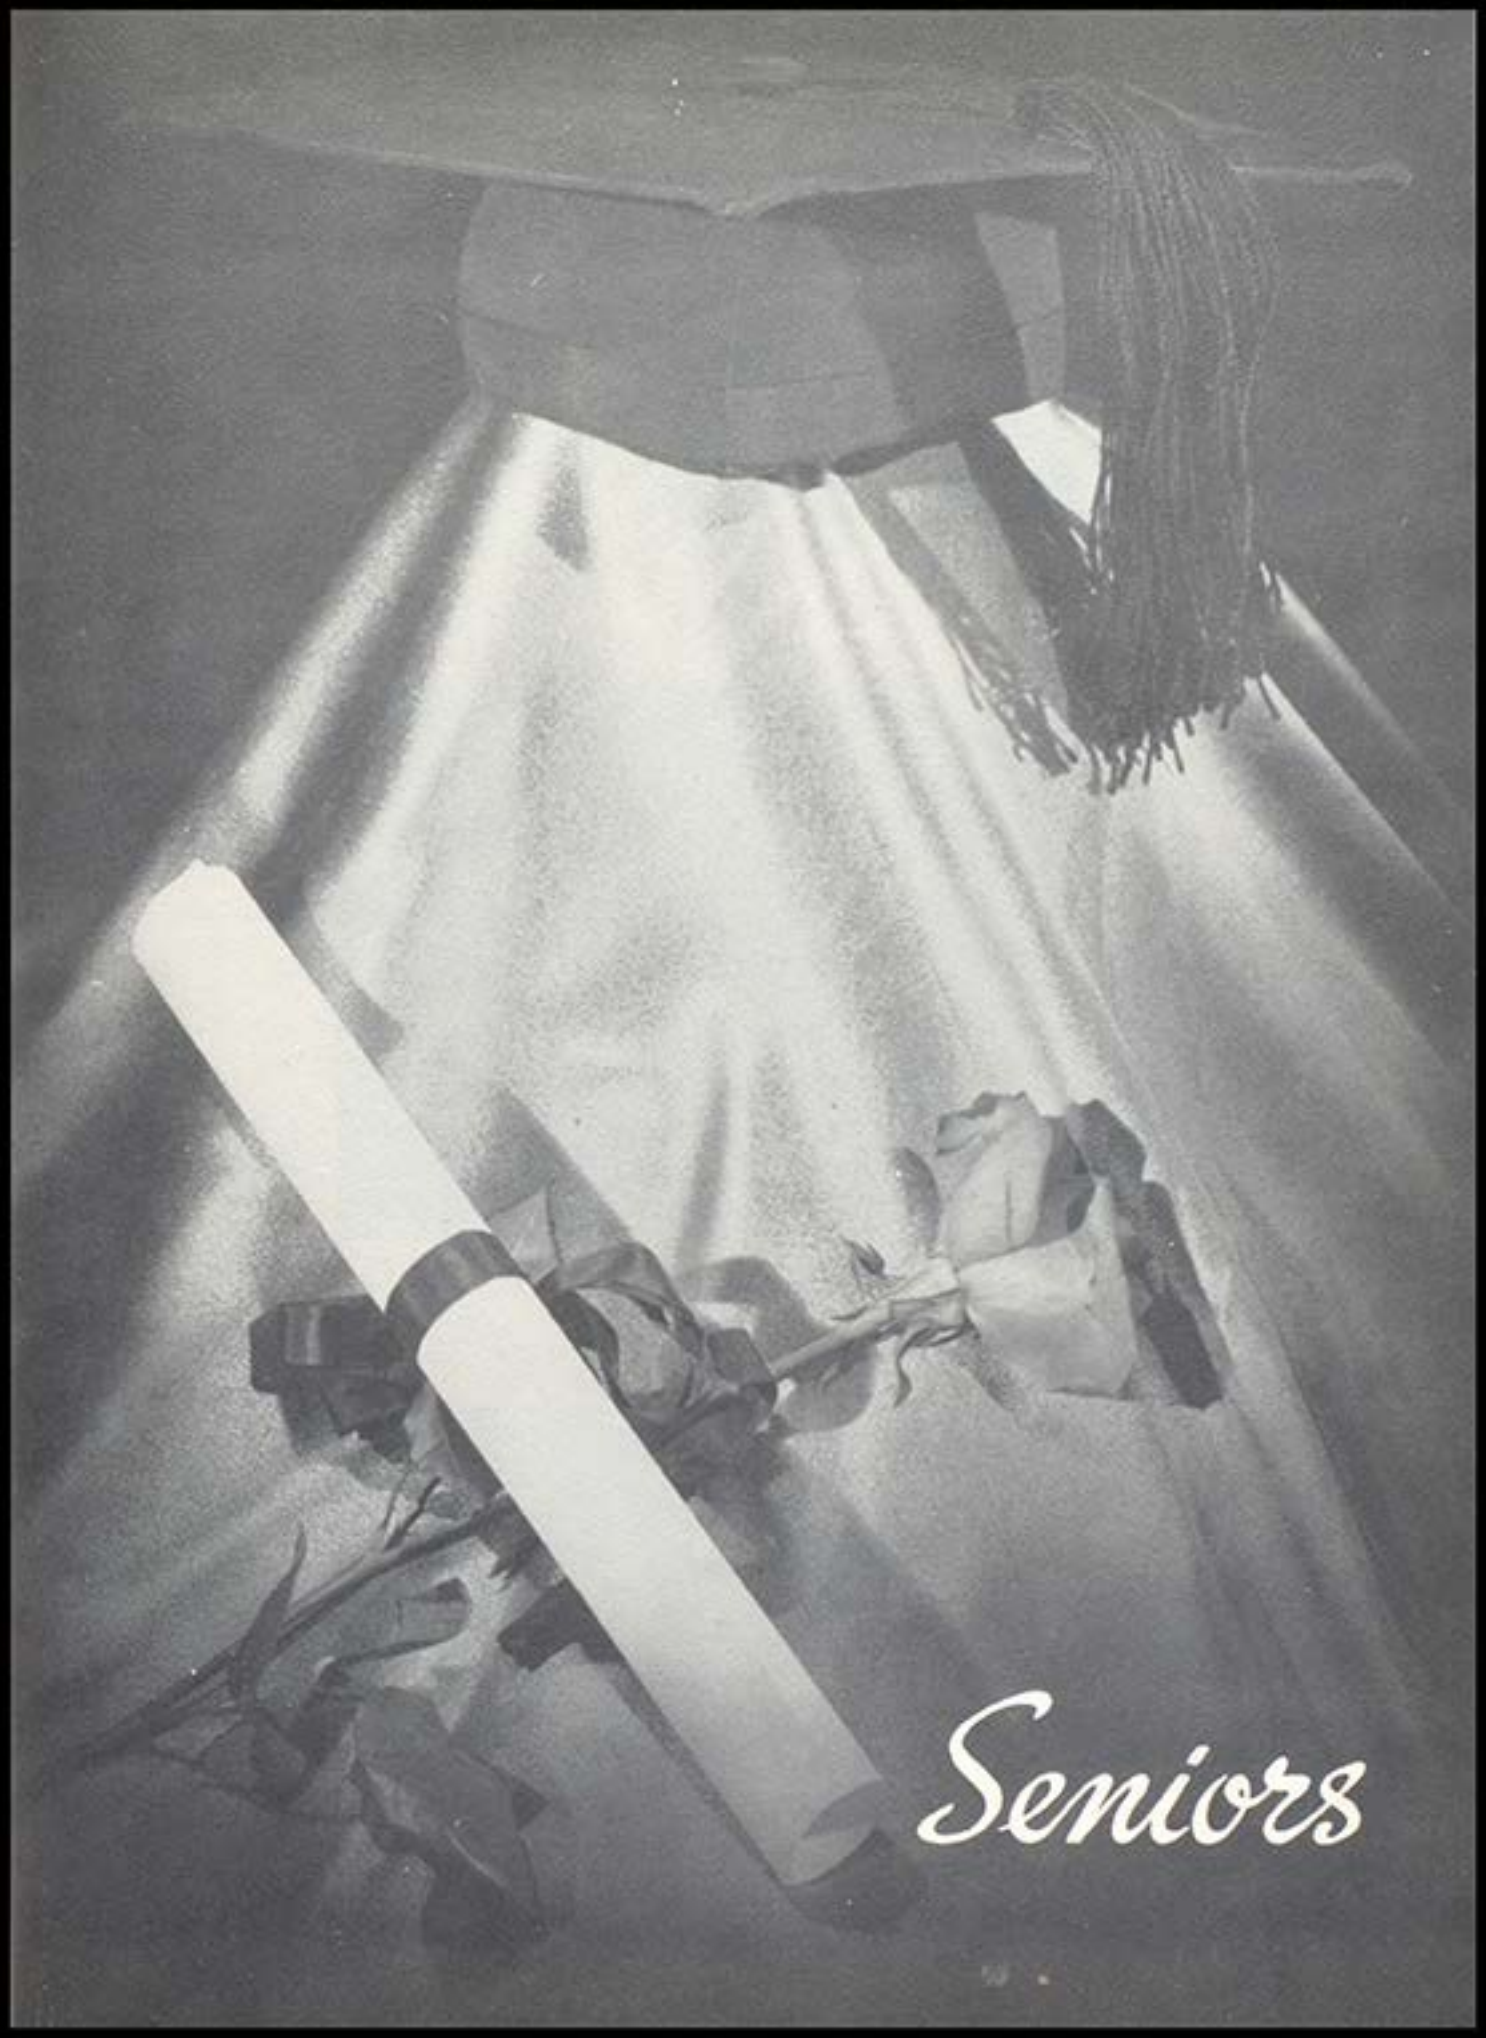

Whenever a student needs first-aid supplies, he is cheerfully assisted by Mrs. Green, Unit Secretary.

New roll-away bleachers lighten janitorial tasks for Fred Landis and Ben Elliott.

The new cooks, Mrs. Kenneth Marshall, and Mrs. Roscoe Adams, find time to eat after busily preparing and serving lunch.

The Windsor High School Band had several activities during the year. They presented an afternoon concert at the Windsor Picnic in August. Several members attended South Central Band Festival at Centralia in the fall and Bi-county Festival in the spring. The main event of the year was the marching show at the Sullivan basketball game. After forming a "W" and an "S", the band played several marches and pop tunes. They concluded their activities by presenting their annual spring concert and playing for graduation exercises.

For the past three years, the concert band has not gone to contest. This gives the students more time for solo and ensemble preparation, and the director more time in which to help them. This year district solo and ensemble contest was held at Shelbyville and state contest at Arcola.

Because of sickness, two soloists shown in the picture at the right, Jo Ann Risley and Joe Hortenstine, were unable to attend contest.

Soloists take time out from practicing and memorizing to have pictures taken. They are: STANDING: Karen Shafer, bass clarinet; Fred Begeman, clarinet; Joe Hortenstine, trombone; Jo Ann Risley, clarinet; SEATED: Tom Haney, baritone saxophone; and Bonnie Haney, baritone.

District Solo and Ensemble Contest Entries

Due to sickness the brass quartet got a late start, but made up for it by long hours and hard work during the week before contest. They are: Bonnie Haney, John Wiley, Allen Bennett, and Joe Hortenstine.

The Swing'n Notes furnished entertainment for the Masonic Banquet and the Gays Community Club during the fall.

The Windsor Dance Band and the Shelbyville dance Band sponsored two dances during the year. The first one was in the fall at Windsor and the spring one was at Shelbyville. Each band played for one-half of the dance. The purpose of the dances was to promote better relationship between the two schools.

The group attended the Stage Band Festival at Effingham in January. Fifteen bands from southern Illinois communities were present. Mr. Gene Stiman, former Benny Goodman trombonist, suggested ways each band could be improved.

The Band officers perform a variety of tasks which keep the organization functioning smoothly.

"We Must Remember to Call Her Clementine"

It hardly seems as if the pranks of one peppy tomboy would set the whole neighborhood in a tizzy and rouse the ire of the Women Voters, but that's what happened in this lively and laughable play, "Clementine."

Clem was a teenage girl who refused to grow up. She would rather play football with the boys than go to parties like the other girls her age.

Clem's mother finally cracked down - she had to stop playing football and start going to parties. All events lead to Clem's becoming a triple threat - a football player, a speech maker, and a young lady. Clem's father's being mayor of the town presented more problems to her already complicated life.

A little matter of Clem's kicking a football through Miss Pringle's window and of a phrase in her contest speech concerning "gossipy old maids" nearly causes Clem's father to lose the election. Clem finally admits her mistakes and becomes a charming young lady.

If Practice Makes Perfect,

Top advertising sales this year have enabled us to add four new pages, making a seventy-two page book with an eight page supplement.

Many hours of hard work - planning photography schedules, cropping pictures, drawing layouts, and writing copy to meet the deadlines - were spent by the Yearbook Staff.

"You say you've already shaved?"

Parties and Initiation

The "Senior Drag" and the Juniors' "Spook Hop" were the two school parties held before the beginning of the basketball season. The Sophomores and Freshmen planned the other two in the Spring.

Other organizations sponsored parties and dances throughout the year. Chief among these, were the exchange dances with Shelbyville. Dance bands representing each school furnished music for the highly successful dances.

Again this year, the Student Council sponsored the Freshman Initiation on September 4. The main attraction was the Freshmen's exploit through an "underground passage" that was set up beneath the stage.

Judy Grabb Reigns as Homecoming Queen.

Miss Judy Grabb was crowned as the first Windsor Homecoming queen at the December 19 dance which climaxed the homecoming activities. The beautiful queen received the honor bestowed upon her by the majority vote of the student body after a faculty selection of two candidates from each class. The remaining candidates served as Miss Grabb's attendants.

Homecoming Festivities Last Three Days.

During the last few years W. H. S. students have expressed their desires to have a homecoming. It wasn't until this year that these dreams became a reality as the Student Council undertook its sponsorship as one of its major projects.

A parade and bonfire began the three day festivities. Most of the organizations made banners containing pep slogans to be used in the parade. Rain dampened the attendance, both viewers and participants, but not the school spirit of the students in the parade led by convertibles carrying the members of the basketball team. The parade, after traveling down main street, went directly to the high school parking lot where the bonfire was held. After the cheerleaders led several cheers, Coach Buchanan spoke briefly, then presented the team. A paper bulldog, representing the St. Anthony mascot, was tossed into the fire as the students, chanting cheers, did a snake dance around the fire.

Upon entering the school building the next morning, the students found that someone had hung a skeleton, dressed in St. Anthony's red and white colors, by a rope from a light fixture near the main entrance. Blue and gold streamers throughout the halls and stairways set a cheerful atmosphere--little did anyone know that this mood would not last the entire day.

St. Anthony, unaware of the events in Windsor, took their home court with overwhelming desire to gain first position in the conference. Before the evening was over, Windsor's homecoming gaiety slipped to sorrowful tears as the Bulldogs edged the Blue Devils by three points.

The meeting of alumni friends at the dance the following evening helped erase the bitter sting of defeat and restored the homecoming gaiety once again.

We students and faculty truly hope homecoming will become an annual event and wish to congratulate the Student Council and Mr. Seng on the excellent job they did for this FIRST Homecoming.

Miss and Mr. W.H.S.

"Would you like to buy a season ticket? We're going to have a good team!" These words were heard time and time again by the townspeople last November. One motive for this plea was the fact that classes were backing their own candidates for Miss and Mr. W. H. S. title. The sale of a ticket entitled the seller to one or two votes for his choice of candidates. The sophomore candidates, Nancy Bullerman and Eddie Taylor, were victorious. Of course, another motive could have been in the battle of the sexes, for this double barreled contest also pitted the boys against the girls in selling tickets. The losers, the girls, presented and financed the Christmas party.

Sophomores Capture Two Titles!

King and Queen

A feature of the Charity Carnival sponsored by Windsor's Woman's Clubs was the crowning of a king and queen from the grade school (Arlene Stilabower and Keith Gaston) and from the high school. Kay Hubbardt and Dickie Cole, the Sophomore candidates walked with the high school honors. All groups of class candidates had decorated boxes which were placed in downtown business establishments. The one receiving the most money gave its owners the title of King and Queen.

Organizations

Every year when a new council is chosen, it faces the problem of what constructive projects it might do. This year it undertook something which had been planned for some time, a Homecoming.

It got an early start for financing the program by maintaining a very successful stand at the Harvest Picnic.

The council has also talked of an Alumni Association to help with future Homecomings.

Some of the other projects were to attend the District Convention, to buy a new ping-pong table, and to help at the Polio Carnival.

The council's efforts, which are greatly appreciated by the student body, are a great asset to the school.

G.A.L. Girls Develop

The league's main activity is bowling. Every other Monday, about forty-five G. A. L. girls bowl right after school at the Etog Bowling Alley in Mattoon. Several of the girls have attained fairly high averages, and many others are gaining more and more skill.

Mrs. Hayden, advisor, checks Alice Bennett's and Judy Grabb's bowling scores of 154 and 155 respectively.

Learning to Do — Doing to Learn —

Striving toward their aim, the development of agricultural leadership, cooperation, and citizenship, the Future Farmers of America learn to work together effectively. In the Windsor Chapter of Section 19, the boys all work toward this aim. Since 1945, twelve boys in this Chapter have attained their State Farmer degrees. There have been many other honors bestowed upon the boys; in June of 1958, the grain judging team ranked first in the state.

Earning to Live — Living to Serve.

The emblem of this all-male organization consists of five symbols: the owl, the plow, the rising sun, the cross section of an ear of corn, and the American eagle. The owl symbolizes wisdom and knowledge, and the plow stands for labor and tillage of the soil. The rising sun is emblematic of progress and the new day that will dawn when all farmers are trained and have learned to cooperate. These three symbols are enclosed within the cross section of an ear of corn which represents common agricultural interests since corn is native to America and grown in every state. The eagle is indicative of the national scope of the organization.

Windsor Tied for Third in Conference

Because of excessive rains, the Blue Devils missed practice sessions until a few days before the first game. As weather permitted, they picked up speed, but not until they had lost their first three games. Then they progressed into a hard-hitting aggressive ball club and won the remaining five games.

In spite of this slow start, the Blue Devils were able to tie for third place in the conference with Brownstown and Neoga, behind the leaders, Teutopolis Wooden Shoes, and the runners-up, Stewardson-Strasburg Comets.

During the season there were several plays, some a little freakish, which will be long remembered by those involved. Such an incident occurred in the bottom of the sixth inning in the Stew. - Stras. game. With the score tied at 4-4 and the leading runs on base, a Comet batter hit the ball into fair territory down the 3rd base line. The ball rolled foul several yards behind a light pole. A Windsor player, anticipating a sure put-out at home plate, scooped up the ball and fired toward home. Bang! Much to his dismay, the Windsor player had not heard the resounding bang of the ball hitting the leather of the catcher's mitt, but the sound of the ball hitting the light pole. The ball bounded much farther away from home plate than it had previously been hit. The two runs which scored on the play provided the victory margin for the Comets. Game total for Comets: 6 runs, 8 hits, and one BIG ASSIST from a "well-trained" light pole!

Next year's squad will miss the services of five graduating seniors, pitcher Ray Tull, third baseman, Linn Voris, first baseman, Bill Reynolds, catcher, Bill Edwards, and outfielder, John Griffin.

W.H.S. Halls "Rocked" During Practice Sessions.

Remember last November, around 5:00 P. M., when you decided to drop by the high school for a few moments? As you opened the door, a shattering burst of echoing sound nearly forced your retreat. But after gathering new courage, you walked cautiously through the hall. "Gang way!" A sturdy athlete, carrying dumbbells on his shoulders, raced by you and then made his way laboriously up the stairs. After recovering from this near collision, you were startled by the booming words, "Go wild, you devils, go wild!" which came from the upper hall. Actually these "goings on" at WHS were not so unusual. They occurred each evening as cheerleaders (who practiced in the halls) and athletes prepared for the opening game of the season.

Season's Record, 24-2, Best in School's History.

Practice sessions, featuring much running and hard played scrimmages, paid off as Coach Buchanan's talented Blue Devils compiled the best won-lost record, 24-2, in the school's history. Team work was probably the most important factor in the team's success; for although there were several individual stars, many close and key games were won by united effort and a balanced attack.

Seven comparatively easy victories showed the many loyal fans what to expect. (Windsor citizens are to be commended for their attendance to out-of-town games. Their loyalty was quite evident, for often their number was larger than that of the opponents'). Then the Blue Devils were upset at St. Anthony by an inspired Bulldog team. But the Blue Devils bounced back by taking their next ten contests, including two tournament titles. This streak was interrupted by a crushing 21 point defeat at the hands of Teutopolis, a game in which nothing seemed to go right for the "cold from the field" Blue Devils. But once again the Devils were not to be stopped, for they won the remaining seven games.

The team featured a sparkling fast break, tremendous inside shooting by Reynolds and Edwards, good outcourt shooting by Tull and Bennett, and important baskets by Griffin and Curry. These six were the only players to see action in ten of the games. Their ability not to leave the game by the foul route proved to be a very important factor.

The graduation of five seniors: Edwards, Reynolds, Tull, Griffin, and Voris will be a great loss to future Windsor teams, for the first 3 were on last year's starting five and contributed much to the success of the 1956-57 and 1957-58 teams. But if the 18-2 record of Assistant Coach Andy Pullen's hustling Jr. Varsity is any indication, Windsor fans can look forward to many victories next year. The biggest problem facing the next year's team seems to be the lack of height, but they may make up for this by a determined desire to win.

The last three years have been a successful era for Blue Devil teams; they have compiled a remarkable record of 71 victories and only 14 defeats. Not many schools can boast of such an enviable record.

Blue Devils Twice Crowned as Tourney Champs.

Windsor and Teutopolis went into the National Trail Tournament as the 1-2 favorites. The forecasters must have known their business this time, for that is exactly how each team finished in the tourney. After downing a stubborn Stewardson-Strasburg team 70-58 in their first game, the Blue Devils ousted Neoga 88-79. Now was the big one--the championship game with Teutopolis. The Devils jumped into a commanding lead in the first quarter by taking advantage of T-Town's heavy fouling. A tighter 2nd quarter narrowed the half time margin to 45-31. The Wooden Shoes chopped away at the lead in the 3rd quarter by outscoring Windsor 25 to 19. Again in the 4th, T-Town closed the gap, but the Devils clung to their lead and won by 82-78.

Windsor led in the following tourney statistics: most combined team points--167 (Windsor and Neoga), fewest team fouls--55 (3 games), most points in tourney--240 (3 games), most field goals in tourney--88 (3 games), leading scorer in tourney--Edwards (79).

Realizing that two tournament championships in one year would be difficult, the Blue Devils went into the Shelby Invitational Tourney determined to accomplish this difficult feat. Their first opponents, the tall Mater Dei team from Breese, played an outstanding game. A tremendous individual effort by Edwards, who broke tourney records by scoring 44 points including 22 free throws, led the team to a 86-84 victory. The going was still rough, in the next game Cahokia gave the Blue Devils a good struggle before going down to a 72-69 defeat. The championship game with an old rival, Shelbyville, proved to be the easiest of the tourney games. For the second time in three weeks, the Blue Devils returned home with a first place trophy; this time after having defeated Shelbyville 75-61.

In addition to Edwards' record breaking performance, Windsor broke the following records: most team combined points--171 (Windsor and Mater Dei), most rebounds in one game--Reynolds (22), fewest fouls in one game--7.

State Tourney Dreams Shattered by Sectional Loss!

Since their grade school days, the five seniors on this year's squad had tenaciously clung to the dream of going to the 1960 state tourney. This dream began to blossom more and more as the Blue Devils climbed through the district and regional to the sectional finals. But there it was shattered! Yet, the dream had come so close to becoming reality as the Blue Devils were halted only by a sudden death double overtime.

Their struggle to the sectional final, which began by a 2-0 forfeit win over Lovington in the Findlay district, won the admiration of basketball fans throughout the area. However, the district championship with Arthur was a tense contest as Windsor found it difficult to score. But Windsor fans breathed more easily as Edwards took the reins by scoring 13 points in the final quarter to lead the team to a 61-50 victory.

Neoga, Windsor's first Arcola regional opponent, was no match for the scoring punch of Reynolds and Edwards, whose combined total of 59 points led to a 80-64 rout. The next game proved to be the tourney classic as the powerful Blue Devils clashed with Mattoon, whom they had not defeated since 1930. Neither team had a substantial lead until Windsor seemingly broke it wide open late in the 3rd quarter. But Mattoon was not to be denied as it stormed back to take a 60-57 edge in the final quarter. With 35 seconds remaining, Windsor's hopes were dampened, that is, until Reynolds' 4 points effort put the Blue Devils over the hump with a 63-62 win. The Blue Devils' explosive 27 points 4th quarter, including 10 of 17 field goals, crushed Villa Grove 84-65, thus giving Windsor its first regional championship since 1943.

In the Mattoon sectional opener, Windsor revengefully pounced on Teutopolis, who had handed it a most humiliating defeat earlier in the season. Edwards poured through 38 points, the highest number scored in any 1960 sectional game, to help hand T-Town a 80-69 setback. The following evening the stage was set - Windsor fans sat numbly in the stands waiting for Buchanan's hopeful Blue Devils to take the floor. As the Windsor players made their appearance, they were greeted by a roar from their many loyal fans. Could this "cinderella" team fulfill its dream? All anxiously watched as their "boys" desperately struggled to keep pace with a hot shooting Greenville quintet. In the final quarter, a comeback became more difficult when Reynolds fouled out with 3:12 remaining. But an incredible comeback, resembling a Hollywood production, was staged. Edwards was fouled with 3 seconds remaining. Coach Buchanan called a time out after Bill made his first shot. On the second shot, Bill fired a line drive that hit the front of the rim and rebounded to him as he charged toward the basket. He sank it as the final gun sounded! Heartbroken tears rapidly changed to delirious happiness as Windsor fans stormed onto the floor to embrace their heroes. But the dream developed into a nightmare as the Blue Devils missed several chances to win in the overtime and then in the double overtime. Greenville's 67-64 victory gave it a state tourney berth, but Windsor players, coaches, and fans shall always have fond memories of the year they NEARLY went to the state tourney!

Tourney point totals: Edwards, 176; Reynolds, 110; Tull, 56; Bennett, 34; Griffin, 30; and Curry, 21.

Post season individual recognitions: Edwards: All-Conference; All-Southern, Chicago Herald; Little All-State, Chicago American; Extra Special Mention, Daily News; and All-State Team, Champaign News-Gazette. Reynolds: All-Conference.

The Fans and Their Favorites

Windy runs to join his team and fans at the tournament games.

Bill Edwards goes up for the basket that tied the score and sent the game into an overtime and the fans into hysteria.

"My, Ray, what a big head you have."

Been standing long, John?

"Get away from me, you big bullies."

"It's a bird, it's a plane..."

"Okay, Al, right over that goal post."

No fair, three against two!

Only Eleven Earn Letters in Track.

Tough well-balanced area teams coupled with Windsor's lack of depth limited the Blue Devils' chances of capturing any team titles. Their most important accomplishment was placing second, behind Shelbyville, in the Shelby County Track Meet.

The squad's two seniors, Bill Reynolds and Bill Edwards, gained recognition throughout the season with outstanding performances. Reynolds, one of the area leaders in the discus during most of the season, placed first in such meets as the N.T.C. Conference, Shelby County, and Moultrie County. Although he performed best in the discus, Bill picked up many points in the shot put and high jump. Edwards, who shattered many records in both hurdle events, finished the season as area leader in both. He won all hurdle races he entered until a mishap in the District meet. Although he was able to win both events, he pulled a leg muscle which caused him to scratch in the highs and not qualify in the lows at the State meet.

The other nine lettermen, who will form the nucleus of next year's squad, performed well in many meets.

"Mother Is a Freshman"

Staged by Seniors.

Abigail Abbott, in order to keep her daughter, Susan, in school, accepts a scholarship to study zoology at Pointer College where her daughter is a sophomore. The dean of the college and the zoology professor think Abigail, being at least 35 years old, is in school because of a publicity stunt. The dean does everything in his power to get Abigail expelled from school. Professor Michaels' falling in love with Abigail adds to the complications of the plot. The play is set in the reception hall of a girl's dormitory where the cast, portraying college students, adds to the enjoyable situation throughout the play.

Juniors Transform Gym Into "Enchanted Gardens"

After much work and fun in preparing for the prom, the juniors created the lovely, Oriental "Enchanted Gardens." The banquet, highlighted by Oriental fortune cookies, was held in the grade school cafeteria and was served by the sophomore girls and boys dressed in white jackets, black slacks, and coolie hats. The banquet room was beautifully decorated with wind chimes and lanterns hung from the lights. Cherry blossoms on wide strips of black crepe paper were placed down the center of the tables.

From 9:00 p. m. until 12:00 p. m. the guests enjoyed the dance in the "Enchanted Gardens" in the high school gym. The music was provided by the Paul Douglas Orchestra.

The tea house, richshaw, and flowers were set on the stage and the bridge, pond, lanterns, flower gardens, and trees in full bloom in the gym completed the Oriental setting.

Lake of the Ozarks, Site Chosen by Seniors

This year the ambitious seniors, anxiously awaiting the time to which they had long looked forward, set out to earn money so that they might take a trip. This was partly accomplished by selling candy and coffee at the ball games and working hard to make the class play a success. They also put much hard work into two car washes in spite of cold and rainy weather.

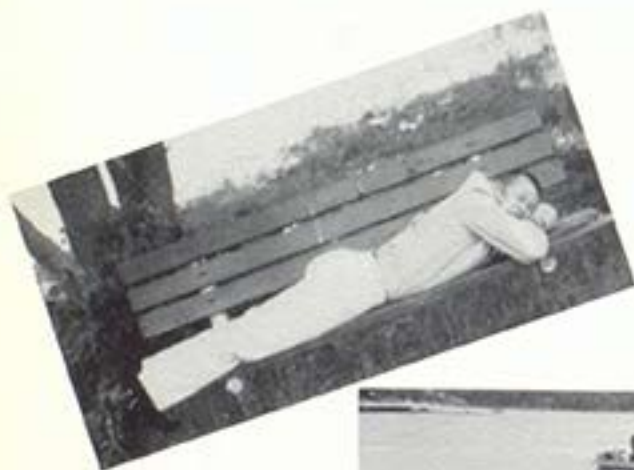

At 4:00 a.m. on May 20 a chartered bus awaited the seniors, who were still sleepy, but anxious to be on their way. Even though there were a few late sleepers, the travelers were finally on their way.

After a pleasant, but tiring, ride they arrived. Finding the lodge was on the edge of the lake, they set out for a wonderful time of taking speed boat and seaplane rides. Although some of the fun was dampened by rain, several tried their hand at horseback riding - not a single person fell off!

That evening they danced on board the Governor, a large excursion boat. In spite of the curfew, most of the seniors stayed up all night eating pizza and playing cards.

Since the sun came out as they were preparing to depart, the seniors stopped at the beach for a swim. Later, they said farewell to the Ozarks by making a short stop at Bagnell Dam.

The tired seniors arrived home late Saturday night with happy memories of a trip, which was over all too soon.

The Spotlight Fades Away —

You've spent several hours looking at the pictures of activities that were in the spotlight during this school year. It is difficult to realize that classes, committee meetings, ball games, little chats between classes, and parties are now history. But the memories still linger!

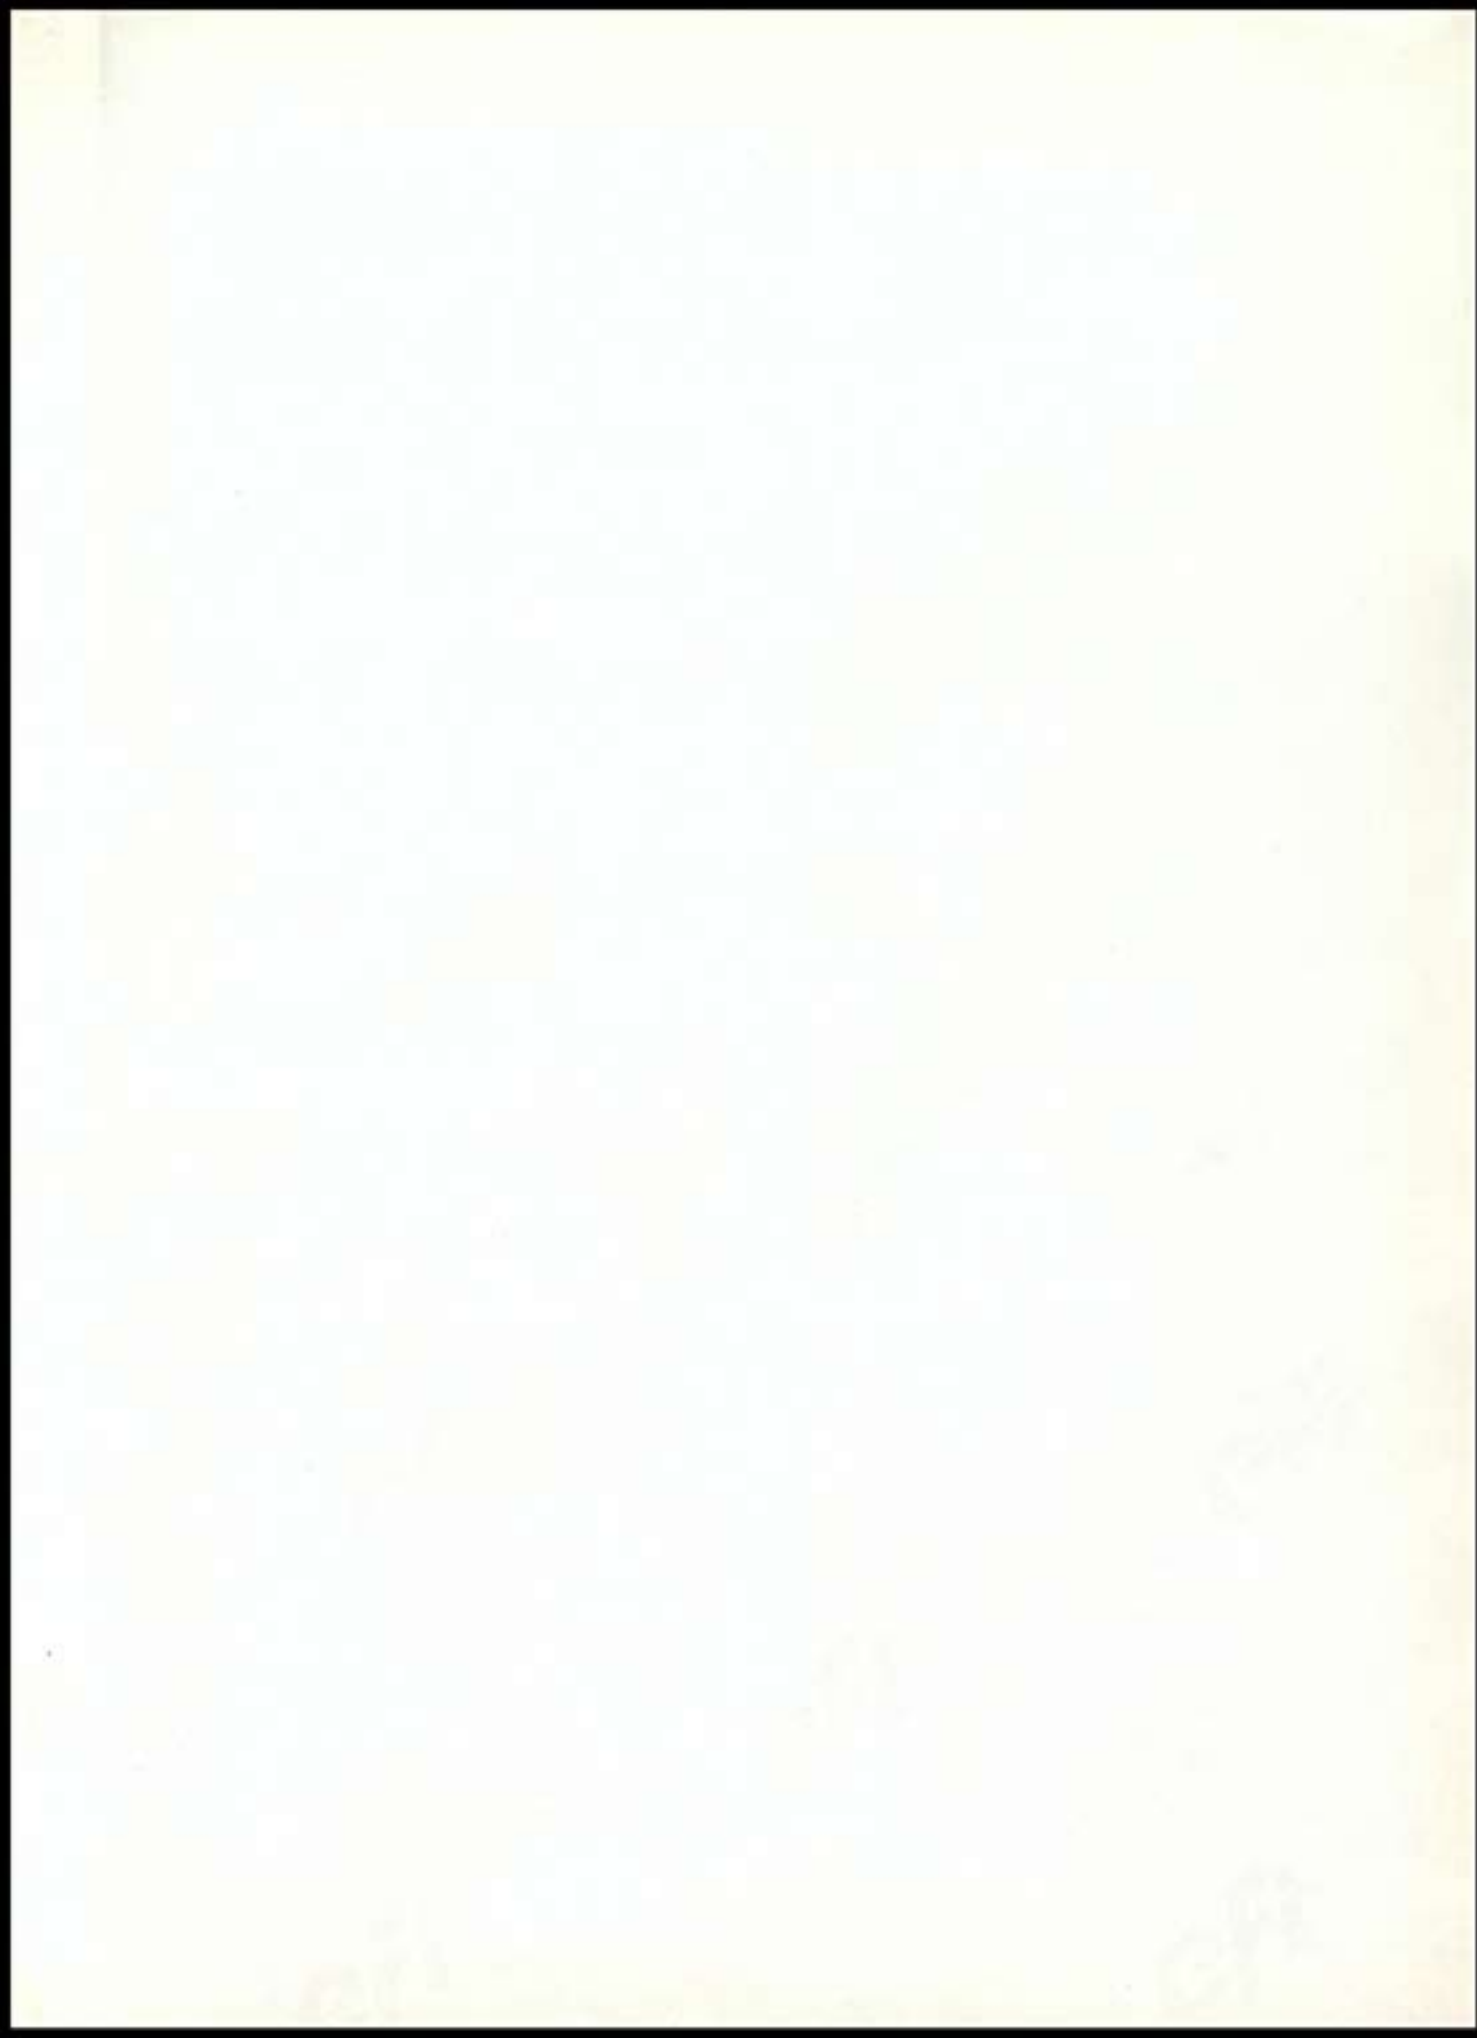

Remember the last day of school when friends were bidding each other goodbye? For underclassmen, it was a time of excitement as they thought of summer jobs and recreation. For seniors, the excitement was mixed with a shade of sadness as they thought of parting with many friends to face a future full of challenging responsibilities. The spotlight, focused on that last day of school, now begins to fade slowly, slowly; it grows dimmer, dimmer, d - i - m - m -
